Need a Boost to Your Workforce? Community Health Worker Trainees Available!

Samantha King from Ohio State's Community Health Worker Program is reaching out to see who might be interested in hosting community health worker students, either remotely or in-person, beginning the week of February 8th, 2021 through April 2nd, 2021. Though they understand that practicum looks a little bit different right now, they are always looking for field experience for the students.

Not sure what CHWs do? Check out this detailed description!

If you are interested in hosting a student, please email Samantha King including responses to the questions below:

1. How many CHW Trainees are you interested in hosting between 1/8/21 and 4/2/2021?
2. Do you have any requirements or preferences for trainees? (Bilingual, technologically advanced, prior experience, etc.)
3. What onboarding requirements will trainees need to abide by? (Initial interview, resume, background check, drug screen, etc.)

Monthly COVID-19 Discussion Group:

The Charitable Healthcare Network is hosting a monthly virtual discussion group for Ohio's charitable health care organizations. Here we will check-in with one another and share resources/strategies in our approach to handling the pandemic. Meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month from 11am-12pm.

If you wish to participate, please re-register by clicking here. Registration from last year has not rolled over into the new year.

11AM, Wednesday January 20th

Joe Agoeda, CEO of Sostento and Project Finish Line will be chatting with CHN Members about the Ohio's role in fighting the pandemic for our most vulnerable citizens.

As Ohio's State Lead for Project Finish Line, Charitable Healthcare Network has been given resources such as Vaccinations FAQ, and they are currently working on a COVID-19 Vaccination/Care Toolkit (coming early 2021). Join us to learn more about this exciting partnership, and learn more about what is to come in the new year!
